THE GLENDALE NEWS

DEVOTED TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

VOL. VI. GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CAL., FRIDAY, JULY 15, 1910. No. 12

Tropico and Glendale are practically one community joining Los Angeles City on the north; the former five and the latter six miles in a direct line from the Court House in Los Angeles. Glendale is an incorporated city of the sixth class with about 2700 population. Pacific Electric cars leave Sixth street depot half hourly. Eagle Rock cars leaving Twelfth and Broadway every half hour, connecting at Eagle Rock with car for Glendale. Rapidly increasing in population and importance. Schools, churches, fraternal societies, business establishments and all the accessories of an up-to-date suburban community.

CITY TRUSTEES

Almost an Interesting Session—Nothing Doing in the Railroad Matter—Routine Business

All members present, with a good attendance in the lobby.

The usual long list of bills was put through.

The supply committee reported in favor of accepting the bid of the Los Angeles Rubber Company to supply 300 feet of fire hose at 75 cents per foot and reel at $130. The report was adopted. The clerk reported that the adding machine ordered by the board had been delivered, and that he had secured a janitor at $4 per month.

The public works committee reported that they favor delivery of electricity to parties outside the city at the same rates prevailing within, the consumer paying for meter and cost of connection. City attorney reported progress in Sixth street matter. The manager of the electric light department made a report showing expenditures for June amounting to $1,148.42, and receipts $2,494.21. Amount on hand, $1,345.79, of which $1,264 is above all obligations. Operating account: Amount on hand June 1, $1,388.77. Expenditures, including $1,493.94 transferred to bond and interest fund, $2,014.60. Receipts, $866.50. Balance on hand July 1, $240.27.

Mr. Coker demanded that the report of the committee of the whole be made to the trustees. Mr. White, the chairman, stated that it was not in order, that the committee of the whole did not have to report to the trustees. Mr. Coker insisted. The chairman, addressing the lobby, asked if anyone present wished to address the board. Mr. Usilton stated that the people wanted an opportunity to express themselves in regard to railroad matters before the board took action in regard to it. Chairman White said that the matter is in the hands of the city attorney and the city engineer in conjunction with lawyer and engineer of the Pacific Electric, and that it would not be proper to take the matter up now. He assured the people, however, that due notice would be given to them, so that they could have an opportunity to express their approval or condemnation of proposed action. This being satisfactory to those present, the spectators, almost in a body, adjourned. A number of ladies were present, representing the library board. A report was read from the library board, which was received and filed. As requested by the trustees, a motion was made and seconded that the trustees take steps toward securing a Carnegie library. The board was addressed by Mrs. Wells, and the trustees all expressed themselves in favor of the motion, the idea generally being that an effort should be made to secure a library building that will cost at least $15,000. The motion carried, and the matter was referred to the committee of the whole to work with the library board. It was decided to have a meeting of the two committees on Thursday evening of next week. The question of the quality of the water in the various reservoirs caused considerable discussion, and finally a motion passed requesting the various reservoirs to furnish diagrams of their pipe systems. A resolution for the abandonment of Parker Drive on the eastern limits of Glendale City was passed.

MISS WATSON HONORED.

Mrs. Barager Bailey entertained Saturday afternoon at "The Peppers" in honor of Miss Mary Edith Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Watson of Glendale, who is to become the bride of John Adair Peebles of Los Angeles, in August. Masses of pink and white flowers were used in decorating, those being the colors chosen by Miss Watson to be used throughout the wedding. The afternoon was delightfully spent on the big porch, hemming linen for the fair honoree. Late in the afternoon Miss Watson happened to seat herself under a basket of flowers, one of the decoorations when to her complete surprise Miss Mary Tarr and Miss Nettie Watson pulled the white ribbon streamers and showered her with rice and tiny white cards.

On the cards were written half a sentence pertaining to love, marriage, etc., and the bride-elect was informed that she must hunt for the other half. Each card was found tied to a jar of delicious home-put-up fruit.

After the shower, dainty pink and white refreshments were served. Those invited included Mmes. A. McConnell, A. Anderson of Los Angeles and Mmes. William Lawrence Hovis, James Farrell, Floyd Reed, Russell Jones, William Talbott, J. C. Danford, B. S. Quick, Alvin Nelson, Joseph Shropshire, S. Grant, Scofield, G. H. Benson, G. H. Barager, and the Misses Alice Watson, Nettie Watson, Blanche Tarr, Martha Thiede and Mary Tarr.

SPORTING NEWS

The Baseball Situation.

BY E. B. VALENTINE.

The baseball game last Saturlay between the Y. M. C. A. and Glendale City was won by the former team 16 to 3.

The regular Glendale boys failed to put on a uniform at the last moment and Manager Valentine was forced to substitute new players to complete the line-up.

Mr. Valentine wishes to thank Barrager, Stewart, Damrow, Wilde, Bidwell, Kels, McNab and Easton for helping out in a pinch, while the other disgruntled players made their presence known by many caustic remarks and actions unbecoming a real true fan at the game.

Mr. Valentine has secured an entirely new team as a result, and the personnel is as follows: Fisher, Proctor and Riley, catchers; Kimball, Stewart, pitchers; Coombs, first base; Black, second base; Baldwin, shortstop; Andreirir, third base; Proctor, left field; Fulcher, center field; Brown, right field.

Mr. Valentine has spent $385.00 in the game since starting January 22, and has received in collections, sale of seats, contributions, etc., $215.00 to date as per checks, and certainly is entitled to the whole support of the people of Glendale Saturday afternoon at the game.

A new team calling themselves Verdugo Parks has made inroads on the original team and is helping to boom a private corporation real estate business outside of the Glendale city limits. Good luck to the team and may they play clean baseball and win all their games.

There are six games yet.

MISSES ZERR AND CLEMENT ENTERTAIN.

The Misses Frances Zerr and Alpha Clement entertained a few of their friends on Wednesday evening, June 29, at the home of Mr. Zerr. Games were played on the lawn until 9:30, when musicians came. The young people danced until 10:30, when ice cream and cake were served on the lawn. Then they enjoyed dancing until 12, when all departed, declaring they had never had a better time. Those present were: Marie McDonald, Anna Magilligen, Helen Tupper, Marjorie Duncan, Maisie McCann, Alma Turner, Violet Turner, Rae Davis, Aggie Zerr, George Barnes, Elzie Carter, Ralph Bourne, Louis Leppingwell, Ray Stone, George Mitchell, Gus Pulliam, Owen Emery, Seymour Newton, Lige Zerr, Mr. and Mrs. Zerr. Japanese lanterns were artistically hung over the lawn and around the porches.

CELEBRATE ELEVENTH ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cole of 331 Orange street celebrated their eleventh wedding anniversary Tuesday evening. The home was prettily decorated with an abundance of flowers, and the evening was most delightfully spent. At quite a late hour a buffet luncheon was served, and each guest was presented with a piece of the original wedding cake which was made for the wedding of the bride and groom in 1899. Mr. and Mrs. Cole were the recipients of a miscellaneous shower of presents.

Guests included only immediate relatives and were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. John Moody and family of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Strong, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bush, Mrs. G. W. Smith, all of Los Angeles; Edgar Strong of San Francisco; Mrs. M. A. Moffat, mother of Mrs. Cole, of Hermosa Beach, Mrs. S. J. Mitchell and Mrs. L. R. Michener of Sawtelle, C. E. Damerell and Harry W. Chase, business partners of Mr. Cole.

THORNYCROFT FARM.

Mrs. Herbert Coombs, who has been spending a few days at Long Beach, has returned to the farm.

Miss Gertrude Card and aunt, Mrs. L. M. Bethel, of Long Beach, are new arrivals at Thornycroft Farm.

Mr. M. R. Thomas of Los Angeles is at Thorncroft for a rest.

The eleventh birthday of Lucille Roemer was celebrated at Thorncroft Farm with a children's party. The little guests were entertained in the walnut grove. The following were those invited: Bobbie Wagstaff, Laurence Smith, Arthur Smith, Merle Strawser, Zola Strawser, Ocean Park; Charley Covalo, Ferne Roemer, Charles Deering, Earle Harding, Los Angeles; Florence Andrews, Prescott, Ariz.; Frances Green, Earle Showalter, Harry Coker, Glendale.

THE STANTON BOOSTERS.

Will hold a meeting tonight at K. of P. hall on Brand boulevard. This organization comes from Los Angeles and its object is to promote the interests of Hon. P. A. Stanton in his campaign for the Republican nomination for governor. Judge C. J. Noyes and Kenton A. Miller will be the principal speakers.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING.

The largest sale of realty in this vicinity recently is that made by Mr. G. W. Benson of East Sixth street, who disposes of his acreage there consisting of 34 acres, at a price understood to be $900 per acre. The property fronts on the Glendale-Eagle Rock railway running up on the hills at the south end. The property will probably be subdivided.

The property on Ninth street west of Adams, consisting of about two acres, which was sold by R. E. Courtney a few months ago to Mr. Adams, has been sold by the latter to Mr. John D. Shaw of Texas, through the agency of Parker & Sternberg.

Improvements in the way of building in the section west of Casa Verdugo beyond Central avenue continue to be made at a phenomenal rate. In the Kelly tract between Stocker and Dryden streets, San Rafael and Central, twenty houses are to be erected, twelve of which are about completed. The Co-Operative Building Association has 65 lots near by and express their intention to build on every lot, having, as previously reported, already put up 29 houses.

The Peerless Realty Co., which put up several houses near the West Glendale school, are now building one on Mary and another on Salem street.

C. P. Gould is building on Doran street. D. A. Lane is putting up a house at Second and Central. Mr. Ramsdell, Oak and Columbus, is building a small cottage. Mr. Stubblefield is building on Home Court, near Tenth and Brand. Dr. Tholen's residence on the corner of Tenth and Brand has progressed far enough to show that it will be a valuable addition to the improvements in that section.

CAKE CONTEST.

An event which will interest and please the ladies of Glendale is a cake baking contest which will be held on Tuesday evening at Odd Fellows hall. Any lady in Glendale may enter this contest, the only restrictions being that the cakes must be made of cottolene and "A-1" flour.

The contest is given by the grocers of this city and will be under the auspices of the Glendale fire department.

All cakes should be submitted with the understanding that they will be donated to the fire department, and after the prizes, of which there will be ten, have been awarded, the cakes will be auctioned off, the proceeds to go into a general fund of the Glendale fire department for purchasing additional equipment.

NEW ELECTRICAL FIRM.

The Superior Electrical Company, Messrs. Newton and Naudain, who bought out the Middleworth Electrical business on Fourth street, now occupies its new rooms in the lately completed Godfrey building on Fourth street near Glendale avenue. They have fitted up their establishment in an attractive manner. The middle one of the three rooms is a show room for lamps and other fixtures and an excellent display is made.

NEW BAKERY.

A new bakery has opened up for business in the McIntyre building on Fourth street near Glendale avenue, known as the Russell Purity Bakery. Mr. Russell comes from Pasadena, where he was for some time in the employ of the well-known Phelps restaurant. The rooms in the new block are fitted up in up-to-date style for the bakery business, the chief feature being an oven with a capacity of 300 loaves.

VISIT THE OIL FIELDS.

Under the guidance of Mr. Lincke, Dr. D. W. Hunt, Messrs. Alex Mitchell, E. C. Frank and W. H. Ward made a trip to Coalinga Friday evening of last week, returning home Sunday. They accumulated much information as to the oil business and the attractive features of Coalinga as a summer resort.

Mrs. Ellen B. Newcomb, who is quite popular among Glendale residents, and who is a poetress of no little ability, celebrated her 78th birthday anniversary at her summer home at Catalina Island last Sunday. When taken to the island several weeks ago, Mrs. Newcomb was quite ill, but has sufficiently recovered to be about the cottage and will probably be out on the water front in a few days. She will very likely be away from Glendale until late in the season. In fact, she is so well pleased with the island that she vows she would like to live there during the remainder of her life. Mr. Newcomb and their daughter, Mrs. Mabel L. Tight, are with her. Mrs. W. C. Fraley has also been one of the family party on the island until Tuesday last when she returned to her home in Glendale.

Miss Grace Potter, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Glendale sanitarium, last Saturday, is recovering rapidly. Sunday afternoon she was taken for a short while to the lawn and the warm air proved very beneficial. Her mother, Mrs. Lund, arrived from Albuquerque, N. M., Monday, to be by her daughter's side, and when the sufferer recovers sufficiently will take her to New Mexico. Miss Potter was taken to her home Wednesday.

It will pay you to trade at Valley Supply Co. 308 Brand Boulevard because full weight is guaranteed and quality is assured.

GLENDALE, CAL., JULY 15, 1910

Governor Harmon has suspended the mayor and chief of police of Newark, Ohio, where the lynching occurred the other day, and by doing so has showed a wholesome regard for the dignity of the state of which he is the chief executive. The affair was a most brutal one and if any "respectable citizens" took part in it, they should have the measure of their respectability tested in a court of law.

One of the candidates whom the NEWS had intended to support for the Republican nomination for superior judge of this county, has been called from the sphere of human action by death. Township Justice Robert A. Ling had a heart big enough to take in all humanity, and we cannot help but think that somewhere and somehow he is fulfilling a higher destiny than is achieved by the holder of a political position however high —To his spirit peace!

Work on the Owens River aqueduct may have to be suspended for lack of funds. The syndicate that took a portion of the bond issue has by its agreement until February 1st next to decide whether it will take any more. Meantime this option prevents a sale to any other purchaser. It is possible that the local banks will come to the rescue and take $2,000,000 worth of bonds provided the consent of the holders of the option on the whole issue can be secured.

Sierra Madre trustees have resolved themselves into a committee on ways and means by which to curb the automobile speeders, who, the News says, "use Baldwin avenue as a sort of shoot-the-chutes." Like many other kinds of law-breaking, the difficulty in these cases is to secure the proof. We suggest to our contemporary that they secure some philanthropic old lady who wants to confer a benefit upon humanity before she closes her career, set her carefully, with an automatic spring, at the turn of the road, so that she will start across the speedway just at the moment that the big "red devil" shoots by—gather up the evidence, and sue for big damages. The ordinary fine has no deterrent value whatever. Just see what a $10,000 verdict will do!

The Hollywood Citizen waxes facetious in describing the efforts made by the Los Angeles Pacific Railway company to comply with the Los Angeles ordinance limiting the speed to twenty miles an hour. The following is a sample: "The ordinance did not mention how slow the cars might go, probably the man who drew it up didn't know until this week. When a car goes so slow that you can't tell whether it is going to the beach or the city except by the way the trolley points, it is certainly going some slow. The Citizen hired a man to ride in on one of the cars the other day and to take the actual running time, but he hasn't got back yet. The railroad officials may be enjoying the new schedule but it is certainly hard on the train crews. Every time a dirt wagon passes a car going the same way the motorman hangs his head and blushes with shame, etc." all of which is very good reading and indivates that Hollywood is enjoying as much as possible the "advantages" which it derives from being a part of "Greater Los Angeles."

Such a verdict as was rendered by a jury in the case of Hal E. Hardy in Los Angeles this week has a tendency to make the average citizen disgusted with the jury system. Hardy, while on one of his frequent sprees, shot to death an inoffensive old man who he imagined had insulted him. He had no defense to offer except the fact that he was drunk when the act was committed. His lawyers depended altogether upon their ability to work upon the sympathy of the jury, and seem to have done so successfully, for he was convicted of manslaughter only, the maximum penalty for which is ten years' imprisonment. But he did not get even this much punishment, for the Times report says: "The court is understood to have cut off three years on account of the precarious condition of Hardy's health." Hence the sentence to seven years' imprisonment. But this is not all. Hardy has influential friends, who have announced their intention to attempt to secure his parole at the end of two years. By that time he will have established a record for "good behavior," as whisky will have been out of his reach, and the chances are that he will be turned loose again to menace society. With the loss of faith in the jury system, the "average citizen" may well still further add to his cause for complaint, that a judge should fail to impose the maximum penalty, because of the "precarious health" of the accused. Naturally, a judge would consider the health of a living man, though a murderer, as of more importance than that of a dead man who was murdered.

THE SENATORSHIP.

Edward Meserve, Esq., a prominent lawyer and Republican politician of Los Angeles, has announced his candidacy for the United States senate and has begun a vigorous campaign. The question that has been asked by many interested in the subject for some time past, who will the "organization" put up for this high position, now that Senator Flint has positively declined to stand for the position is in this action answered. Mr. Meserve is a man of ability, but he will be handicapped by the fact that he has always been a part of the "organization" and no inconsiderate part. He ought to know that this element will not nominate the candidate for senator on the Republican ticket this year, or that the chances are against it at any rate. However, the probability is that the successor to Senator Flint will be elected by the next legislature at Sacramento, practically regardless of the advisory vote given at the primaries, unless that vote be much more nearly unanimous than we anticipate, and in the final action by that body, Mr. Meserve's case may not be hopeless. The case of Judge Works, endorsed by the Lincoln-Roosevelt organization, has been weakened by the disclosure of the fact that he is not (or was not a short time ago) a Roosevelt admirer, but is the author of a severe criticism of that strenuous gentleman, in a prominent magazine. We can scarcely imagine the colonel rushing into the contest in California in support of Judge Works, however much, (being an admirer of Francis Heney) he may desire to help Mr. Hiram Johnston.

Because some of the newspapers have had the temerity to comment unfavorably upon the governor's action in pardoning certain criminals, Acting Governor Porter is said to have issued an order that hereafter the fact that such pardons have been issued shall be kept secret. It does not seem possible that Governor Gillette, now having returned to the state and relieved Mr. Porter of responsibility for its welfare, will confirm this order. It cannot be too strongly denounced. The pardoning power vested in the governor should be exercised only upon very rare occasions. When a criminal is convicted by judge or jury and sentenced to imprisonment for a term of years, the people have a right to know that the sentence will be enforced; or if a pardon should be issued, they are entitled to be put in possession of all the facts that brought about that result. It has come to pass that almost any condemned criminal, if he can induce someone to take up his case and work for his release, stands a fair chance to obtain it. In a number of cases men have been turned loose, ostensibly because a physician testified that their health was so poor that they could no longer endure confinement in a prison. A large proportion of the most serious crimes that are committed are the work of ex-convicts, and a considerable number are perpetrated by men out on parole. A governor who under any but exceptionall circumstances turns loose a convicted criminal sets himself up as superior to judge and jury, and makes our whole system for the administration of justice a farce. The law should take from the governor the pardoning power, and vest it in a pardon board, all the proceedings of which should be made public. This has been done in some other states, and it is to be hoped that the wisdom of doing it here may be apparent to our legislators.

STANTON AS A LEGISLATOR.

Philip A. Stanton has served four terms in the California Legislature, and during the last session was speaker of the assembly. During other sessions he served as chairman of the committee on ways and means and of the committee on election laws. During these eight years of service he has inaugurated, or brought to their passage, measures which have saved to the people of California many millions of dollars. These include changes in conducting the business of the legislature; preventing legislators from taking junketing trips at the expense of the state; compelling attaches to earn the pay they receive from the state; improving and modernizing the state house of Sacramento instead of tearing it down and building, at great expense, another to take its place; in preventing the powerful organization forces from removing the state capitol to Berkeley; in protecting the walnut and fruit orchards and vineyards of the state; in preventing the sale of the normal school property, in this city, for less than its value; in cutting down appropriations asked for, while he was chairman of the committee on ways and means, more than six million dollars.

Probably his greatest service, and one that has earned the undying enmity of a certain element in the state, was that while speaker he made possible the passage of the anti-racetrack gambling bill. This measure was one greatly desired by the best people of California, but it was bitterly opposed by every influence which the gambling fraternity could bring to bear, and Stanton was threatened with political annihilation should he dare to make it possible for the bill to pass. In view of all threats, however, he appointed the committee on public morals of a character that met the approval of the best people of the state, and in every way assisted in the passage of this law. This one feature of his record is well known to all who had any part in the anti-racetrack gambling movement, and that is one reason why he is so strongly backed in his candidacy for governor.

These are a few of the scores of measures passed during the last eight years of the highest benefit to the people of California, and which have brought Stanton to the front as the Southern California candidate for the governorship.

It will be noticed that his record for work accomplished is greatly in excess of all that is claimed for anyone of his competitors for the Republican nomination.

The above comes to us from the Stanton bureau. The NEWS would add to the list of Mr. Stanford's activities as a legislator, what we consider as that of most value to the state and nation, his services in securing against very strong opposition the defeat of the anti-Japanese legislation proposed by the rule-or-ruin element among the anti-Asiatics. His services on this occasion secured for him the commendation of President Roosevelt, although the majority of the Lincoln-Roosevelt legislators favored the act which would have resulted if passed in embroiling the United States with a powerful friendly nation.

Correspondence

Editor NEWS:

The good citizens of Glendale and surrounding territory are becoming enthused with the idea of annexation, and this spirit is most commendable, for the Jewel City is now in a better position than ever before to offer her surrounding territory substantial benefits to be gained by annexation, and, with the further knowledge of this territory that they have nothing to lose and everything to gain, no citizen with any civic pride in his heart can advance a good and plausible reason why they should not become a part of Glendale.

With our population doubled, and the city raised from the sixth to the fifth class, we would have many advantages now unattainable. The citizens in the outside territory have now no representative, whereas annexation would give them a voice in the city council and assure them of many benefits and improvements which they now have no right to expect.

Glendale offers the adjoining territory an electric lighting system equal in efficiency service to any in the country, and for which they do not ask the assumption of any part of the present indebtedness. With annexation would come the immediate extension of electric service and the revenue from this additional service would be ample to meet the expenses of extension.

Glendale and its environs have grown up together and their interests are identical, and it only remains for the minor surgical operation for the removal of the present city limits to place all on an equal basis, exactly where we should be.

There will be some who will demur, there always are and always will be so long as human nature is what it is and man is governed to a large extent by the size of his bank account. These objectors will be the ones who own an acre or two of land and are fearful that they will have a few extra dollars in taxes to pay, not being farsighted enough to realize that the improvements they will receive in the way of street work, electric light privileges, etc., will enhance the value of their property to such an extent that the additional taxes will be but in the nature of a good investment.

We must all work together for the common good. There are many things of great importance to come before the citizens of Glendale and vicinity in the near future, and without numerical strength and hearty co-operation we will be greatly handicapped in the accomplishment of that which is to become so necessary to our welfare as a community. Owens river water will soon be at our door and this fact will demand action upon our part, making it very necessary for organized effort on the part of every citizen in the valley. And this is only one of many important questions that must be answreed by us in the not far-distant future.

Mr. Sherer has very kindly thrown open the columns of his paper to all citizens desiring to express their ideas for and against this most important matter, and it is hoped that all who have the interests of our valley at heart will take advantage of this means of placing their views before an interested public in order that all may be apprised of the general sentiment before an election is called.

Glendale, July 11th, 1910.

RESOLUTION NO. 354.

A RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE ORDERING THAT THE WESTERLY THIRTY (30) FEET OF PARKER DRIVE IN THE CITY OF GLENDALE BE CLOSED UP, VACATED AND ABANDONED AS CONTEMPLATED BY RESOLUTION OF INTENTION NO. 342.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do resolve as follows

SECTION 1. That the westerly thirty (30) feet of Parker Drive, as per map recorded in Book 9, page 18, of Maps, Records of Los Angeles County, California, and extending from the southerly line of Sixth Street to the northerly line of Rock Glen Avenue, be and the same is hereby closed up, vacated and abandoned for street purposes.

SECTION 2. That said work is for the closing up of that certain street more particularly described in Section 1 hereof, and it appears to said Board of Trustees that there are no damages, costs or expenses arising out of said work, and, therefore, no commissioners are appointed to assess benefits and damages for said work and to have general supervision thereof.

SECTION 3. The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of this Resolution and cause the same to be published once in the Glendale News, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in said City of Glendale, and thereupon and thereafter the same shall be in full force and effect.

Adopted this 11th day of July, 1910. (Seal.)

JOHN ROBERT WHITE, JR.,
President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

Attest:
G. B. WOODBERRY,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,)

CITY OF GLENDALE.)

I, G. B. Woodberry, City Clerk of the City of Glendale, do hereby certify that the foregoing resolution was duly passed by the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale and signed by the President of said Board at a regular meeting thereof, held on the 11th day of July, 1910, and that the same was passed by the following vote:

Ayes: Anderson, Coker, Lane, Watson, White.
Noes: None.

G. B. WOODBERRY,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

WEST GLENDALE

Miss J. O. Elliott entertained Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Taylor and Mrs. M. C. MacLennon, on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. F. Gilman Taylor and her sister, Mrs. M. C. MacLennon of Oakland, spent Wednesday and Thursday in Long Beach visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Klein and little son, Gerald, of Ivy street, spent Sunday in Los Angeles visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Endres.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Worley and son, Elmer Francis, are spending the week at Hermosa Beach. Mrs. Worley was formerly Mrs. Georgia Francis.

Miss Edith Hermle of Oakland is visiting at the home of her friend, Mrs. Wm. Hyatt, West Fourth street. She expects to remain about three weeks.

Mr. J. J. Schremp of 1452 W. Fourth street has taken up painting as a pastime and if the roof of his home is a good sample of his work, he certainly does shine.

W. T. Smith and family who have been visiting his brother, Mr. C. Frank Smith, left for their home in Kansas, Monday. They will visit in Salt Lake City, and Salida, Colo., on the road home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Stine entertained at dinner on Thursday evening the following guests: Mrs. Roy Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Robert Perkins of Pasadena, and Mrs. Peters and son, Frank, of West Fourth street.

Rev. D. R. Dungan, professor in Drake university, Des Moines, Ia., is visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. T. F. Vandenhof, 1453 W. Fourth street. The professor expects to build in the near future and will make Glendale his home.

Mrs. P. H. Bullis of Everett street, Glendale, is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jessie Stine, West Fourth street, and as soon as her condition will permit, will be taken to the summer home of Mrs. Stine, at Hermosa Beach, in hopes that the salt air will be of great benefit to her.

One of the proudest men in West Glendale is R. P. Faust of 1453 West Fourth street, and no wonder, for Mrs. Faust and himself are he possessors of a fine 8¼-pound big boy. The little fellow arrived in Glendale on the evening of Thursday, July 7th, and is so in love with this climate that he has concluded to take up his residence here.

Home Course In Domestic Science

XIV.—Principles of Home Decoration.

By EDITH G. CHARLTON,
In Charge of Domestic Economy, Iowa State College.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

THE subject of home decoration and furnishing is so large and comes so closely to the individual life of the family that an outsider hesitates to make even the simplest suggestions. And yet just because the subject is large and important and because it is, on the whole, so little understood by the average person is one very good reason why instruction is needed along certain lines. All that I shall attempt, however, in these articles on house furnishing will be some of the very first principles, just a few hints for the women who are not sure of their own opinions on such matters, whose experience has been limited and whose opportunities for getting really good things are very few.

There was a time in the history of our country when the family was content with the home which simply afforded shelter. That was the primitive object of the home, an instinct developed from early ages, when caves, rocks and later mounds of earth and wood furnished the dwelling place for the family. Undeveloped were the instincts which prompted primeval man to seek a place of shelter for his own little circle of human beings. They were, however, the beginning of the highest and strongest social institution in the world, that of family life and the private home. Now conditions have changed, people have developed, and the home must be something more than a place of shelter. It is still the keystone of the nation, the place where those qualities which make for good citizenship are developed, and therefore it is worthy of all the thought, all the intelligent planning and the noblest feelings that can be brought to it. The true home should reflect the character of the people who inhabit it, and above all else it should be of such a nature as to bring out the best there is in each individual beneath its roof. And a home in the true sense of the word can and does do this.

COMFORTABLE LIVING ROOM.

Things Not to Do.

Some of the most glaring faults in home furnishing are the commonest, those committed thoughtlessly or perhaps, to be more exact, those prompted by the dictates of fashion. It is so much easier very often to put into our homes and wear on our persons, even to put into our manner, those things which fashion says are right rather than to adopt those things which suit our own individuality, environment and needs.

Just because fashion states that a certain kind of wall paper, a certain color in carpets or certain styles in furniture are the "latest" and "newest" is no reason in the world why they should be put into your homes unless they will be suitable there. Yet very many times the decree goes forth and is followed blindly, with the result that beauty, harmony and repose are qualities totally ignored in many homes. Some one has said: "The world is full of beautiful things if one has money to buy them. The world is also full of ugly things—things false in art, in truth and beauty. They are things made to sell with only this idea behind them." So do not be tempted by the too common expression, "It is the very latest style," when buying furnishings for your home or wearing apparel for yourself unless the "very latest thing" has beauty and suitability to recommend it.

To have something like every one else is also another fault made in house furnishing. That is one reason why so many country houses try to reproduce on a cheaper scale the city home and why there are so many unattractive homes in smaller towns and country places. Ignorance of or indifference to color and color harmony is another cause for lack of beauty in furnishing.

Again, pictures, furniture, ornaments and everything else are brought into our home without a thought of articles already there. The new and the old are combined without questioning whether one suits the other or not, and in consequence both are spoiled.

Some Rules to Follow.

To furnish a home satisfactorily one must always consider the style of house, its location, the use to which it is to be put, as well as the cost of its furnishing. Not a single piece of furniture should be bought without some thought as to whether it is suitable for the home and its use; also whether it will be in harmony with furniture already in it.

When a woman has sufficient money at her command and can furnish the house completely from cellar to attic it is an easy matter to give the contract into the hands of a professional, occasionally with good results, sometimes disappointment. But when one must consider dollars carefully and furnish one room at a time, possibly only getting the absolute necessities for that room at first, it is a harder problem to solve. The latter woman, however, is the one whom I should like to help. Remember, then, in the first place not to buy anything unless it is appropriate to the use for which it is intended as well as for the completeness of the room. Remember to always select the real and substantial in preference to the showy imitation. If it is a question of tables, buy the simplest form, made of perfect wood, with best finish, rather than the elaborately carved, showy piece flimsily put together. A good enameled iron or plain brass bedstead will be infinitely more satisfactory in the end than one of cheap inlaid wood.

A large expenditure of money does not always imply a satisfactory home. Truth and harmony, the elements of beauty, may be secured in the most inexpensive cottage as well as in the palace.

The ideal country house is built on broad, generous lines. Never should it have the high, narrow, cramped roof frequently seen on crowded city streets, where space is at a premium. It should have also roomy verandas and porches, low ceilings, wide, low windows and hospitable looking doors opening into comfortable, homelike rooms. Such a house should be sincere in its furnishings—should not suggest imitation in any way. This impression of genuineness can be given by inexpensive material, even by homemade furniture, very much better than by showy workmanship carelessly performed.

Treatment of High Ceilings.

Some of the houses built forty or fifty years ago have ceilings too high to express real comfort. A room 10 by 12 feet with a twelve foot ceiling has the appearance of being extremely narrow, while a room the same size with a nine foot ceiling may give a real cozy effect. What is to be done with the high ceiling? The simplest way out of the difficulty is to cheat the eye into forgetfulness of those extra three feet. This can be done by using horizontal lines in the wall decoration. Either the ceiling paper can be brought down on the wall to the distance of three feet, the upper part of the wall may be finished with a frieze, or three feet at the base may be covered with canvas or wood paneling, then six feet of figured paper, finished with a narrow picture molding and joining the ceiling paper, which has been dropped three feet. Any of these methods will give the impression of a lower ceiling.

Borders have their place in wall decoration, but they should not be used in rooms with low ceilings. Such a room should be decorated with striped paper and have the wall covering extend close up to the angle formed by the ceiling, and here the picture molding is put on. Never use wide stripes or large designs of any kind on a small room, and bear in mind that simplicity in design and color is a good rule to follow in wall decorations as well as in any part of house furnishing.

Good and Bad In Wall Covering.

The owner of a new house is inclined to leave the walls undecorated for the first few months at least after the house is finished. His reason may be the added expense of decoration, or he may think he prefers the plain white wall just for its simplicity and because it is sanitary. If the walls have been finished with a smooth white surface it is more than likely every one will weary of them in a short time. Plain white walls give the feeling of being shut in a box, as if there were a limit to space. A smooth white surface also tires the eyes. Not so the rough plasters, which are quite generally used nowadays. And if to the plaster has been added a little color, a hint of gray or deep cream, the effect is satisfying for a long time. Indeed, for almost any room in the house, with the possible exception of the reception room or parlor, this rough surface simply tinted makes a most desirable wall finish. The smooth wall may be decorated in almost any color with calcimine or muresco, giving a pleasing background for pictures. Whatever the wall decoration, it should be chosen with relation to the lighting of the room; also to the furnishings.

If the floor covering has considerable design and color, then the wall should have but one tint, and if the draperies are figured again be careful to select a flat color for the walls. Among the chief objections to wall paper are the exaggerated designs and too conspicuous colors, which are common in most of them. The size of the room and the kind of floor covering should largely determine whether the wall should be decorated with a paper having a pattern or a plain design. It is so much easier to err on the side of too much design than too little that unless you are sure of your knowledge of color combination it is generally better to keep to plain effects.

Pottery and Secrecy.

In the royal manufactory of pottery at Meissen, Saxony, the work was formerly carried on with the utmost secrecy to prevent the processes from becoming known elsewhere. The establishment was a complete fortress, the portcullis of which was not raised day or night, no stranger being permitted to enter for any purpose whatever. Every workman, even the chief inspector, was sworn to silence. This injunction was formally repeated every month to the superior officers employed, while the workmen had constantly before their eyes in large letters the warning motto, "Be Secret Unto Death." It was well known that any person divulging the process would be imprisoned for life in the castle of Koenigstein. Even the king himself when he took strangers of distinction to visit the works was enjoined to secrecy. One of the foremen, however, escaped and assisted in establishing a manufactory in Vienna, from which the secrets spread all over Germany.

Her Diamond Necklace.

Brown is a very careful man. He is superlatively careful. So careful is he that he has insured his insurance money.

Now, Brown has a wife. Wives have to be given birthday presents, and on his wife's first birthday after their marriage he gave her a beautiful diamond necklace. This was not as reckless as you might think, for each stone on the necklace represented a year of Mrs. Brown's life, and he let every one know that. And he arranged to give Mrs. Brown a new diamond each birthday. And he let the neighbors know that too.

He has just missed giving his wife a birthday present for the ninth successive year.

As to when greed will conquer pride and his wife will ask for another birthday present, we shall have to wait and see.—Pearson's.

The Salt Charm Failed.

Some three years before the Franco-German war broke out Count Seckendorff accompanied King William I. on his visit to Napoleon III. and was present at the celebrated dejeuner given in the Pavilion de Diane at Fontainebleau. King William, who was sitting next the empress, was asked by her to pass the salt, and in complying with this request he threw a little salt over his shoulder. Upon the empress exclaiming, "Why do you do that?" the king explained that in his country it was the custom to do so when passing the salt to ward off bad luck and any chance of a quarrel. The empress in a prettily turned speech at once replied, "But surely there is no danger of anything interfering with our friendship." In less than three years the Germans had crossed the Rhine.—London Spectator.

Why Not Pass the Plate?

They ought to pass the plate at church weddings. It comes natural to do it in church, and to do so would add a pretty and useful employment to the duties of the ushers, who always have a little spare time before the bride arrives. And, really, getting married is more expensive than ever, and, though wedding presents are excellent in their way, what the young people usually need the most is cash. Instead of the list of gifts which the newspapers sometimes print we should read, "The collection yielded $4,000,000." That would be nice. It is much easier to store and care for money than plate and glass! And money always fits and there is no such thing as an embarrassing duplication of dollars. —Life.

He Saved the Patent Office.

When in the war of 1812 the British, who had taken Washington, trained their guns upon the patent office, Dr. Thornton, throwing himself directly before the guns, cried:

"Are you Englishmen or Goths and Vandals? This is the patent office—a depository of the ingenuity and inventions of the American nation, in which the whole civilized world is interested. Would you destroy it? Then let the charge pass through my body."

And the building was spared. Twenty-four years afterward, however, it was destroyed by fire, together with everything in it.

The Harm of Damp Houses.

It is dangerous to health and even to life in a damp, moldy house or one built over a moldy cellar. Many years ago the London Lancet in an article on diphtheria traced the disease in certain cases to the presence of certain molds and fungoid growths which seemed to be breathed into the throat. Remember, one of the best disinfectants is lime. Moldy cloths, such as shoes and other articles that are unfit for use, should be destroyed at once.

Why He Applauded.

"Are you fond of music?" asked a stranger of the young man at the concert who was applauding vigorously after a pretty girl had sung a song in a very painful way.

"Not particularly," replied the young man frankly, "but I am extremely fond of the musician."

Out of Her Reach.

"Does your heart ever reach out for the unattainable?"

"No, but my hand do when my husband is not at home. There are three buttons at the back of my gown that I can't reach."

More Appropriate.

"I teach my parrot only short words."

"Do you? Now, I should think that parrots were better adapted to learning polysyllables."

His Athletic Neighbor.

A young man inmate of a boarding house had been disturbed night after night by the boarder in the next room doing things with a punching bag he'd rigged up in the room some way. At breakfast each morning the young man would look over the crowd and wonder who the bag puncher might be, but there was no one in sight but a bunch of women and eight or ten men with narrow chests and retreating chins. One night he made up his mind to knock on the bag punching roomer's door and ask him to put over his exercise until daylight when all the world's awake. The man might be small enough to bulldoze even with all his athletics. The door opened and there, clad in a tight fitting red jersey, was a robust, buxom woman of perhaps thirty summers.

"And what did you say to her?" the young man was asked.

"I was so startled," replied he, "that I asked what afterward seemed to me the most natural request I could have made. I asked her if she'd lend me a couple of matches."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Persistency of Colds.

Why is it that we are so heavily subject to colds? Other epidemic diseases—measles, typhoid, scarlet fever, diphtheria—may get hold on us once and there is an end; it is not usual to have any of them twice. We brew in our blood immunity. The poison of the disease evokes in us its proper antidote. Our blood cells make a sort of natural antitoxin and keep it in stock, so that we are henceforth protected against the disease. A well vaccinated nurse, for example, works with safety in a smallpox hospital, where the very air is infective, but her blood is so changed by vaccination that the smallpox cannot affect her. By scarlet fever, again, we are, as it were, vaccinated against scarlet fever. The reaction of our blood against the disease immunizes us. No such result follows influenza or a common cold. We brew nothing that is permanent. We are just as susceptible to a later invasion as we were to the invasion that is just over.—London Spectator.

The Festive Codfish.

A correspondent of the New York Post says that the codfish frequents "the tablelands of the sea." The codfish no doubt does this to secure as nearly as possible a dry, bracing atmosphere. This pure air of the submarine tablelands gives to the codfish that breadth of chest and depth of lungs that we have so often noticed. The glad, free smile of the codfish is largely attributed to the exhilaration of this oceanic altitoodleum. The correspondent further says that the "codfish subsists largely on the sea cherry." Those who have not had the pleasure of seeing the codfish climb the cherry tree in search of food or clubbing the fruit from the heavily laden branches with chunks of coral have missed a very fine sight. The codfish when at home rambling through the submarine forests does not wear his vest unbuttoned as he does while loafing around the grocery stores of the United States. —Bill Nye.

A High Priced Fricassee.

Lord Alvanley, a noted wit and high liver in England a hundred years or so ago, insisted on having an apple tart on his dinner table every day throughout the year. On one occasion he paid a caterer $1,000 for a luncheon put up in a basket that sufficed a small boating party going up the Thames. Being one of a dozen men dining together at a London club where each was required to produce his own dish, Alvanley's, as the most expensive, won him the advantage of being entertained free of cost. This benefit was gained at an expense of $540, that being the price of a simple fricassee composed entirely of the "noix," or small pieces at each side of the back, taken from thirteen kinds of birds, among them being 100 snipe, 40 woodcocks and 20 pheasants—in all about 300 birds.

Our Eccentric Phrases.

Why do we always talk of putting on a coat and vest? Who puts on a coat before a vest? We also say putting on shoes and stockings. Who puts on shoes before the stockings? We also put up signs telling people to wipe their feet when we mean their boots or shoes. And a father tells a boy he will warm his jacket when he means to warm his pantaloons. We are a little eccentric in our phrases at times.

An Odd Epitaph.

The following epitaph is to be found in a cemetery within seven miles of New York's city hall:

Reader, pass on; don't waste your time
O'er bad biography and bitter rhyme,
For what I am this crumbling clay insures,
And what I was is no affair of yours.

In the Game.

"I am in the hands of my friends," said the political sidestepper.

"Yes," replied the harsh critic, "and every time your friends look over their hands they seem impatient for a new deal."—Washington Star.

The Proper Tree.

Curious Charley—Do nuts grow on trees, father? Father—They do, my son. Curious Charley—Then what tree does the doughnut grow on? Father—The "pantree," my son.—Purple Cow.

Never Good.

Fogg—That's a bad cold you have, old man. Fenderson—Did you ever hear of a good cold, you idiot?—Boston Transcript.

A fool's heart is in his tongue, but a wise man's tongue is in his heart.—Quarles.

GLENDALE, CAL., JULY 15, 1910

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION NO. 353.

A RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE DECLARING ITS INTENTION TO IMPROVE A PORTION OF FOURTH STREET.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do resolve as follows:

Section 1. That the public interest and convenience require, and it is the intention of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, State of California, to order the following street work to be done in said city, to-wit:

First: That that portion of Fourth street from the East line of Adams street to the West line of Verdugo Road be graded, oiled and tamped in accordance with the plans and profile on file in the office of the City Engineer of the City of Glendale and specifications for grading and oiling and tamping of streets on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 9.

Second: That a cement curb be constructed along each line of the roadway of said Fourth street from the East line of Adams street to the West line of Verdugo Road, including returns at all street intersections (excepting along such lines of said roadway along which a cement curb has already been constructed to the official line and grade), in accordance with the plan and profile on file in the office of the City Engineer of the City of Glendale and specifications for the construction of cement curbs on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 2; excepting that such cement curb on the north line of said roadway from a point situated on the North line of said roadway 162.15 feet Easterly from the East line of the Town of Glendale as per map recorded in Book 21, pages 89-90 of Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles County, California, to the West line of Verdugo Road, and such cement curb on the South line of said roadway from a point situated on the South line of said roadway 133 feet easterly from the afore-mentioned East line of the Town of Glendale, shall be placed along each line of said roadway twelve feet from the property line instead of eleven feet as specified in said specifications.

Sec. 2. That the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale finds upon estimates directed to be furnished and furnished by the City Engineer, that the total cost of said improvements will be greater than fifty cents per front foot along each side of said street, including the cost of intersections, and it is hereby determined in pursuance of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, approved February 27, 1893, as amended by an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, amending said last named Act, which amending Act became a law March 2, 1899, that bonds shall be issued to represent the cost of said improvements; said bonds shall be serial, extending over a period of ten years and an even proportion of the principal sums of such bonds shall be payable annually by coupon, on the second day of January of each year after their date, until the whole are paid, and said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum on all sums unpaid; payable semi-annually by coupon, on the second days of January and July of each year.

Sec. 3. The Glendale News, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in said City of Glendale, is hereby designated as the newspaper in which this Resolution of Intention and notice of the passage thereof, shall be published in the manner and by the persons required by law.

Sec. 4. The Superintendent of Streets of said City is hereby directed to post notices of the passage of this Resolution in the manner and in the form required by law, and to cause a similar notice to be published by one insertion in said newspaper in the manner required by law.

Sec. 5. The City Clerk of said City of Glendale is herby directed to post this Resolution of Intention conspicuously for two days on or near the chamber door of the Board of Trustees, and to cause the same to be published by two insertions in the manner required by law, in said newspaper.

Adopted and approved this 5th day of July, 1910.

JOHN ROBERT WHITE, JR.,
President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

[Seal]
Attest:

G. B. WOODBERRY,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,)
)ss.
CITY OF GLENDALE.)

I, G. B. Woodberry, City Clerk of the City of Glendale, do hereby certify that the foregoing Resolution was duly adopted by the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, State of California, and signed by the President of said Board at a regular meeting thereof, held on the 5th day of July, 1910, and that the same was passed by the following vote, to-wit:

Ayes: Anderson, Coker, Lane, Watson, White.
Noes: None.

G. B. WOODBERRY,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

THE OLD SPANISH SWINDLE.

The swindle which has been worked with more or less success several times recently throughout the United States, crops up in Glendale in the shape of a letter which was addressed to Mr. Eaton of the firm of Eaton & Dreyer and which reached him lately. It is dated Madrid 14-5-1910, and is introduced by acknowledgment of the fact that the writer knows Mr. Eaton by reputation merely and has confidence in his honesty, etc. The writer of the letter then goes on to state that before being put in a Spanish prison he was a banker in Russia, to prove which statement he encloses a clipping alleged to be from an English paper relating the arrest of the same banker as a defaulter to the extent of 5 million roubles. The article goes on to say that his name is Alexander Demidoff, which is also the same name signed to the letter. Mr. Demidoff wants financial assistance to help him recover the sum of $480,000, and he is willing to give to the person who comes to his rescue the third of that sum. He enclosed cable address and requests an answer by cable at once. Mr. Eaton has not yet cabled.

The Ham Fair at Paris.

A feature of Parisian life is the ham fair which is held on the Boulevard Richard Le Noir. The name of this fair is wholly misleading, for as far as I have ever seen hams are the very last thing any one ever buys there. Old brass and copper curios, quaint jewelry, rare china, lace, tapestries and books are what most people go out to seek, and a sight not to be easily forgotten is the long, wide boulevard lined with ramshackle stalls laden with every possible kind of lumber and presided over by the most rapacious of brocanteurs. Out of piles of valueless lumber Americans and English diligently seek for their pet kind of curios, and there is not an artist in Paris who cannot point to some bit of furniture in his or her studio and say with pride, "I got that for 5 francs at the ham fair." No one ever pays more than 5 francs, I notice, but, alas, every year these five franc bargains are becoming more rare, and even as housekeeping in Paris grows more and more costly so does the furnishing of one's house to keep.—London Queen.

Only a Question of Possibility.

Among the customers of a tea store opened in the northwest part of the city the other night was a man who, after buying a pound of coffee, handed a counterfeit half dollar to the shopkeeper.

"This money is counterfeit; I'm sorry, sir," said the shopkeeper.

"Yes; I know it," replied the customer, grinning. "Got it here one day last week, and I've been saving it for you." Then, noting the smile upon the shopkeeper's face, the customer said, evidently offended, "Perhaps you doubt my word?"

"Oh, not at all, sir; not at all. I couldn't doubt the word of so truthful a man. I was simply smiling because I wondered how it was possible for you to have got the money here. This place was opened only night before last."

Thereupon the customer departed hastily after producing a good coin and slipping the counterfeit into his own pocket.—Philadelphia Times.

Lancashire Humor.

There was a Lancashire collier who went out on Sunday with his wheelbarrow because, as he said, "I've lost mi dog, an' a felly looks sich a foo' goin' a-walkin' bi hisself."

Then there was the workingmen's club committee which wanted to indorse the accounts "audited and found correct and tuppence over" and the customer who, on being told that the price of candles had gone up owing to the war, asked whether they were "feightin' bi candle leet."

Also one recalls the laggard Lancashire lover who, when asked for a kiss, said he was "goin' to do it in a bit," and the old ladies who praised a certain Darwin clergyman as "a grand burier," and of the orator who translated "Dieu et mon droit" into "Evil be to him what evil thinks!"—"Lancashire Life and Character," by Frank Ormerod.

Japan's Giant Wrestlers.

Japanese wrestlers are not to be confused with Japanese exponents of jiu jitsu. The wrestlers belong to the older school, in which weight is a paramount quality. It is a remarkable thing that a race which is on the average four or five inches under the European standard in point of height should have produced a special cult of wrestlers who are giants in stature and strength. The leading wrestlers of Tokyo or Osaka or Hiogo are all men at least six feet in height and weighing perhaps 300 pounds. They are a race apart. Wrestling is an occupation which has been handed down from father to son for many generations. And the explanation of their prowess is that they have always been meat eaters, while the rest of Japan, either from choice or necessity, have been in the main vegetarians.

Diamonds Under Water.

An imitation diamond is never so brilliant as a genuine stone. If your eye is not experienced enough to detect the difference, a very simple test is to place the stone under water. The imitation stone is practically extinguished, while a genuine diamond sparkles even under water and is distinctly visible. When possible, place a genuine stone beside the possible imitation under water, and the contrast will be apparent to the least experienced eyes.

Consistent Theory.

"Don't you believe the husband is the head of the house and should have the final say?"

"Certainly I do."

"Then why don't you come out in the open and say so?"

"Because my wife won't let me."—Exchange.

Well Trained.

Mrs. Boggs—Mr. Meekman is a splendid example of what a man ought to be. Mr. Boggs—Not at all. He's a splendid example of what a wife, two sisters, a grownup daughter and a mother-in-law think a man ought to be.

Clyde Fitch's Joke.

"Clyde Fitch was an indefatigable worker," said an actor who has played in many of the Fitch comedies. "When he had a play on the stocks he would labor over it day and night, often scarcely pausing for his meals and getting very little sleep; consequently his health suffered. He would work until on the verge of a nervous breakdown, and then his physician would step in and force him to knock off.

"During one of these periods of enforced idleness he was lounging in the Players' club one day when Harry B. Smith, the prolific comic opera librettist, strolled in.

"'What are you doing now?' asked Smith.

"'I am in my doctor's hands,' replied Fitch. 'He tells me I'm in a bad way and has absolutely forbidden me to do any brain work.'

"'That's tough,' said Smith. 'How do you manage to put in the time?'

"'Oh, I'm writing the libretto of a musical comedy!' replied Fitch, with one of his cynical smiles."—New York Times.

Hair Monstrosities.

French theater managers in the eighteenth century had worse evils than picture hats to contend against. Marie Antoinette, who was short even according to French standards, set the fashion of high coiffures, and ultrafashionable women prided themselves on measuring four feet from their chins to the tops of their heads. These structures took about six hours to erect, the hairdresser mounting a ladder in the process. Some coiffures were almost as broad as they were long, with wings sticking out about eight inches on each side of the head. For the "frigate" coiffure the hair was rippled in a huge pile to represent the waves of an angry sea and surmounted by a fully rigged ship. As a consequence of these monstrosities disturbances in theaters occurred almost daily until an ordinance was issued against the admission of women with high coiffures to the floor of the house.—Chicago News.

Yet He Meant Well.

Just as the train was leaving the Fifty-eighth street elevated station a man who had got off there hurried along the platform and spoke to a passenger sitting by an open window in the smoking car.

"Quick!" he cried. "Please hand me that package. I left it on the seat when I got out just now."

"Sure," said the passenger, picking up the bundle and tossing it out of the window.

"Thanks!"

"Hey, there! What are you doing that for?" demanded the wrathful, red faced man sitting next to him.

"Why, he"—

"You double dyed idiot, that package belonged to me! It was $15 worth of laces and ribbons I was taking home to my wife!"

Over the scene that followed let us draw a veil.—Chicago Tribune.

"All Things Come."

The magnate looked up impatiently from his work.

"Well, my good man," he snapped at the diffident rural person who stood twirling his rusty hat, "what can I do for you?"

"I guess ye don't remember me, Hank," faltered the caller. "But you an' me use ter go swimmin' together in th' ol' town. Then you got a job in th' bank, an' I got a job in th' grocery store."

"This is all very interesting, and I seem to remember your face. But come to the point—my time is valuable."

"Yes, Hank. You got a better offer and left the old village. I stayed plugging along in th' grocery store."

"Well, well?"

"Well, Hank, when you left you owed $73.62 on a grocery bill. Here's where you pay up!"—Cleveland Leader.

Perfumes In Ancient Days.

Old as the history of the world itself is that of the queen of flowers. The ancient Greeks and Romans reveled in roses. They were used lavishly at their feasts. In the time of the republic the people had their cups of Falernian wine swimming with blooms, and the Spartan soldiers after the battle of Cirrha refused to drink any wine that was not perfumed with roses, while at the regatta of Baiae the whole surface of the Lucrine lake was strewn with flowers.

Making a Lawn.

On his English tour an American was admiring the velvety smoothness of a certain sward, and, being possessed of land and an overpowering confidence that with money all things are possible, he asked the head gardener how to produce such a lawn. And the gardener said: "It's easy enough, sir. All you need do is to remove all the stones, plow up the ground, plant it with grass seed and roll it for 300 years."

Our Friends.

If we choose our friends for what they are, not for what they have, and if we deserve so great a blessing, then they will be always with us, preserved in absence and even after death, in the amber of memory.—Cicero.

Couldn't Talk.

De Style—You say that loving pair of deaf mutes were sitting in the parlor and didn't carry on a conversation? Gunbusta—They couldn't, for they were holding hands.—New York Press.

I never knew an early rising, hard-working, prudent man, careful of his earnings and strictly honest, who complained of bad luck.—Addison.

How to Ruin Credit

If your credit and business standing are good (and it is your purpose to keep them so), then do not sign notes and bonds with every Tom, Dick and Harry that comes along. Of course, circumstances are likely to arise where you may be justified in helping a friend. But if you make an extensive practice of this sort of thing you will soon find that your own credit is being ruined.

Notice of Foreclosure Sale

JOSEPH S. TANNER, Plaintiff vs.
DAVID C. ADAMS, F. A. BIZZELL, et al. Defendants

Sheriff's Sale
No. 74883
Order of Sale and Decree of Foreclosure and Sale

Under and by virtue of an order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale, issued out of the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, of the State of California, on the 21st day of June, A. D. 1910, in the above entitled action, wherein Joseph S. Tanner, the above named plaintiff, obtained a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale against David C. Adams, et al., defendants, on the 16th day of June, A. D. 1910, for the sum of two thousand five hundred thirty-five and 30-100 ($2535.30) dollars, gold coin of United States, which said decree was, on the 17th day of June, A. D. 1910, recorded in Judgment Book 201 of said Court, at page 66, I am commanded to sell all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the City of Glendale, County of Los Angeles, State of California, and bounded and described as follows:

Lot One (1) in Block Twelve (12) of the City of Glendale, as per map recorded in Book 14, pages 95 and 96 and Book 21, pages 89 and 90 of Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles County. Together with the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging or in anywise appertaining.

Public notice is hereby given that on Tuesday, the 19th day of July, A. D., 1910, at 12 o'clock M. of that day, in front of the Court House door of the County of Los Angeles, Broadway entrance, I will, in obedience to said order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale, sell the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said judgment, with interests and costs, etc., to the highest and best bidder, for cash gold coin of the United States.

Dated this 23d day of June, 1910.
W. A. HAMMEL,
Sheriff of Los Angeles County.
By E. W. BISCAILUZ,
Deputy Sheriff.

H. S. ROLLINS, Plaintiff's Attorney.

NOTICE OF ASSESSMENT.

The Verdugo Pipe and Reservoir Company, a corporation, organized under the laws of California; principal place of business in the City of Glendale, Los Angeles County, California.

Notice is hereby given, that at a meeting of the Board of Directors of said Company, held on the fifth day of July, 1910, an assessment, Number 9, of fifty cents per share, was levied upon the capital stock of the said corporation, payable immediately to the treasurer of said company, at the Bank of Glendale, southeast corner of Fourth Street and Glendale Avenue, Glendale, California, or at the Eagle Rock Bank, Eagle Rock, California.

Any stock upon which this assessment shall remain unpaid on the fifteenth day of August, 1910, will be delinquent and advertised for sale at public auction, and unless payment is made before, it will be sold on the thirtieth day of September, 1910, at ten o'clock a. m., to pay the delinquent assessment, together with the cost of advertising and expenses of sale.

J. C. SHERER, President.
C. E. PARKER, Secretary.
Glendale, California.

KEEPING IN TOUCH WITH HOME

IT IS WONDERFUL HOW MUCH SATISFACTION CAN BE OBTAINED FROM A TALK OVER THE BELL TELEPHONE

A letter carries words, but the Bell Service has been brought up to such a point of perfection that the modulations of the voice are clearly heard.

The cheery tones show that the talker is well and in good spirits. The call may come from a suburban village or a distant city, but within the limits of the carrying power of the voice the Bell Service carries the tone as well. You get a personal interview with a friend hundreds of miles away.

TROPICO

Ivy Wilkinson is passing a week with friends at Bay City.

Mrs. Alfred Englehardt spent the past week with her sister at Sherman.

William Ichebaum and family of Parke avenue are passing two weeks at Venice.

Mrs. Cover Melrose passed Wednesday of this week with friends in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Chester Thrasher of San Diego is spending some time with her aunt, Mrs. Maxwell of Parke avenue.

Mrs. Charles L. Peckham left Tropico last week for San Francisco where she will join her husband and reside.

Rev. and Mrs. Henderson C. Shoemaker passed Saturday, Sunday and Monday at Santa Ana visiting with friends.

Dr. and Mrs. Magee and family of Los Angeles, passed the early part of this week with Ballentynes, on Glendale avenue.

Mrs. John Parker was at Covina Tuesday of this week, where she attended the funeral service of an old friend of the family.

Benjamin DeCouse, an architect from Yuma, Ariz., and Charles Retts of Los Angeles, were guests at the Marple home Tuesday evening.

Mrs. R. Z. Imler has been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Watson at their home on Lomita avenue for several days, the early part of this week.

Albert Macke and family, who have been residents of Tropico for the past several years, have moved to Eagle Rock, where they will remain permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hough, who have been residing on Central avenue for several years, will leave for a three months' trip to Chicago about the 16th of August.

Mr. Seward, the contractor for the brick work on the Tropico Bank building, is putting the finishing touches onto his part of the work and the building will soon be completed.

Rev. and Mrs. D. M. Stuart of San Diego, formerly of this place, were in Tropico this week visiting friends. Mrs. Stuart will leave soon for New York where she will attend the 100th birthday anniversary of her father.

Frank Moore, building contractor, has disposed of his home on Oak Drive and is now starting the erecting of a fine residence on Parke avenue, just west of Central, which he will occupy when completed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Light leave this week for an outing in the Elizabeth Lake region. Mr. Light will remain only a few days, leaving Mrs. Light for a longer stay in the hope that her health may be benefited by the change.

M. O. Ayres, a banker, of Dakota City, Neb., with his daughters, Mrs. Florence Carter, of Omaha, and Mrs. Marian Skeen, of Cody, Neb., and his son, Edgar Ayres, returned home from a flying visit to his brother, S. A. Ayres, and sister, Mrs. N. C. Burch, of Tropico, last Tuesday evening, via the Southern Pacific Coast line. The party were the guests of Mr. N. C. Burch, of Tropico, on a trip to Catalina, Sunday. Mr. Ayres has property interests in Tropico, which he acquired twenty-three years ago. It is nine years since his last visit here; and of course he was not prepared for the wondrous changes that have occurred since then, and they almost took his breath away.

The funeral services over the body of William J. Blain, superintendent of the Forest Lawn cemetery, who died at the Clara Barton hospital on Wednesday night of last week following an operation for appendicitis, were held at the Presbyterian church of this place last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Henderson C. Shoemaker, pastor of the church, having charge of the service. The music for the service was furnished by Mrs. W. H. Bullis and Mrs. Clyde Carmack. Following the service at the church a short session was held at the vault where the body was temporarily placed, this being in charge of the Masonic lodge. On Tuesday morning of this week Mrs. Blain and son, Merrill, left with the body for Detroit, where it will be interred in a cemetery over which Mr. Blain't father has charge.

W. G. Black of this place was the victim of an automobile accident last Thursday which, although but slight damage was done, might have proved very much more serious. Mr. Black was returning to his home after carrying Mrs. Black to the meeting of the Tropico Thursday Afternoon club, and at the time of the accident was crossing the tracks of the Pacific Electric. He did not see the approaching car until he was close to the tracks and immediately he made every effort to stop the machine. In his effort to stop suddenly some part of the machine was thrown out of gear and the auto became unmanageable. As the car was too close to stop it crashed into the auto, bending the axle, breaking the lamp, besides almost destroying the entire front of the machine. In the mixup the front step of the car was torn off.

The highway commission is pushing work on the county road between Los Angeles city limits and Burbank and has that thoroughfare pretty well torn up in the neighborhood of Tropico. At present they are working on culverts at the principal street crossings and have three or four excavations made in this vicinity almost impeding travel at each place. At the one at the junction of Park avenue and San Fernando road an automobile was ditched one night during the past week and more than one loaded team has come to grief at the junction of Central avenue and San Fernando road. It would seem to an outsider that it should not be necessary to leave these ditches open for so long a time before the cement crew comes along, but the traveling public is submitting with good grace, cheered up by the belief that sometime we shall have a real highway.

TROPICO PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

Rev. Charles H. Abernathy of El Cajon, will deliver the morning discourse at this church next Sunday. In the evening at 7 o'clock Rev. Shoemaker will speak at the Christian Endeavor service. Rev. Abernathy and wife are passing the summer at the Glendale sanitarium.

The business meeting of the Endeavor Society and installation of officers for the ensuing year will take place in the church parlors this evening. Following the installation a social time will be enjoyed.

MISSES MARY AND EVALYN UTTER ENTERTAIN.

Misses Evalyn and Mary Utter entertained Tuesday and Wednesday of this week with a house party complimentary to Miss Emily Ellias, whose birthday occurred Tuesday. The party enjoyed part of Tuesday at a secluded spot near the Los Angeles river where the time was passed in picnicking, after which they adjourned to the Utter home on Moore avenue and the evening was passed in games and other amusements until near midnight when a supper was served. The guests included Misses Alma and Alta Stone, Emily and Lillian Ellias of this place; Harriet and Margaret Nichols, Pearl Goode, Lita McCoy, Helen Moser, Alice Moser, Birdie and Lillian Shropshire of Glendale, and Mabel Houser of Covina and Mary Jane Keller of Los Angeles, both of whom are spending several days with the Misses Utter.

NEW STUDIO OPENS.

The first photograph studio of which Edward N. Weston, is proprietor and operator, opened this week on Brand boulevard just north of Tropico avenue. The studio is one of the most complete imaginable and is really a credit to the town. It is finished throughout in mission style, the woodwork being in golden oak. The porch has the original rustic finish of the natural wood and from projecting limbs baskets of ferns and flowers are hanging. The building is fitted with a cosy reception room, posing room, dressing room; a spacious dark room which is fitted with every modern convenience including enlargement apparatus, and on the south side of the building is the finishing room. The place is fitted throughout with hand-burnt mission furniture and is so arranged as to be cool and airy in the hottest weather.

INVITED TO SAN PEDRO.

At the last meeting of the Federated Improvement associations in Los Angeles, Captain Hansen, who is vice president of the Federation, extended an invitation to the members of the Improvement Asociations in the Federation, to visit San Pedro Saturday next (tomorrow) and be his guests on a trip around the bay. A number of the members of the Glendale and Vicinity Association will probably accept the invitation for an afternoon's outing. Arrangements will be made to accommodate all who go. Take the 12:30 Pacific Electric car from Sixth and Main.
